Should people uses mobile phone to make fun on people?

In the 21st century, technology improves and there were some mobile application that makes fun on people because new Phone has new features and apps to make it success. We will experience choices of allowing or against the behaviors on my opinions.

From the passage above, we have understood the good and bad side. For the good side, people will learned the lesson on using too much self phone for calling, using apps with internet and chatting. Chatting on phone call for the long distances causes more money; however, if you see the bills, you money spent on roaming causes more. So, after you pay the mobile fees, you will not uses it again.

A fact was more people like you make up Photos or Videos. On the one Hand, It makes people happy; on the other hand, the reference of elf yourself OfficeMax made people keep it as a memories for some reason. Therefore, we should do it sometimes when people accept it.

For the bad side, if you post it on the social media, can made people have controversies and feuds; however, it made people mad and upset. Also, prank calls can made people have lots of concerns on unknown happens and the originating people.

The victim does not know whats happening and believes that was his/her friends was the one tell them to dot it. On the office of practical jokes, Johnson Lee pretend to be one of their friends and called them to lie about the adress and end up people lost their directions; however some deal the situation right. So, people have to beware of the phone calls and the apps.

At lease, we know the good or bad on using mobile apps to make fun on people. but we should think carefully on the consequent and advance the learning.

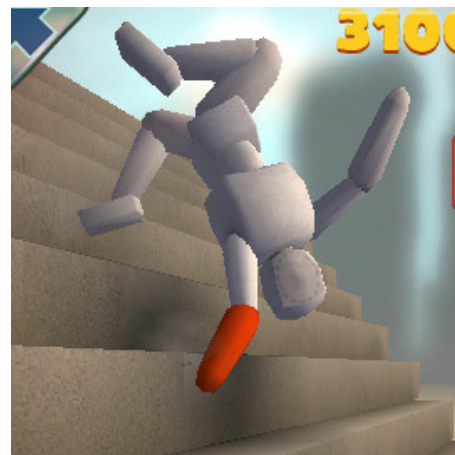

The Gangnam Dancebooth- is a planned app to the sequel of the popularity of Psy Gangnam Style-The Horse Dance. Is aimed on the idea of the friends wanted to dance like Psy and they request to put the head of a person on a photo onto the character. Also you can store many head you can put and have different cloths.

Villain Hitting-usally occur in every year and the date is 6th March. It is a tradition of Hobg Kong and people usally put their friends head photo on the paper. Due to it's popularity, the created the app for people to hit at home and not go to Wanchai.

Stair dismount is a game where you see your friends hurt on a psychological way. This involve putting your friends head photo on a toy person head and push them off the stairs. there were also many scenes you can push your friends in.

Prank Shows: Richard ng Six Star Disturbance Vs Scare tactics

People like see and laugh on others, but if you see you friend on the scene you would like it; However, particular Practical Joke show are the one we know for it. So, we will discover the two decade gap shows.

Practical Jokes can be play on people and it can be normal jokes or jokes played on television. The normal ones without being video are made for their own purpose of happiness, but the purpose of television are for the viewers to be happy. One of my interests was the practical jokes show and always loves them. I always watch them on the television because it makes me feel happy and I can laugh on the victims. As I look through, I like the Richard Ng's Six Star Disturbances and Scare Tactics because the ideas and set up of the pranks are different when I look clearly and we can understand how practical jokes can be played differently be seeing the trailers.

There were similarities and it is also basic indeed. Most of the scene and acts were comedy and funny acts. Most of the acts on the television are base on making fun and encourage people to be happy or themselves happy by having unexpected events. Also there were actors and victims involve on the ad to let people seen their emotions which made it attractive. The outlook of the act and the feelings made attractive by the title. The video shows of the trailers are the compilation of jokes on the coming up show as a preview.

There are differences on the two trailers presentational elements. On the Richard Ng's Six Star Disturbances, the music is happier. The music from piano makes people thinks of surprises and unexpected events happening. Scare Tactic trailer's music has more heart rising effects because they wants people to feel that there are unexpected scary scenes coming towards yourself and increases your heart beats. Also, the trailer has many bloopers which are distorted from the practical subjects and fun facts each made laughs on the scene more memorable. Scare Tactic have less blooper showed because the show trailer always wanted to focus on the effects which makes people feel happy and funny so they put it on the victims. The talking sound on the trailer is the narrator talking about the idea. The narrator wants to show the meaning of fun and warns us to be careful because you might be tricked by him. Scare tactics narrations were different, the narrator only explains what will happen on the show but the hosts will tell us about topics which have equal opportunity.

The victims on the trailer are ordinary people and less the show were broadcasted on Asian Television channel in Hong Kong on 1989-1990 and there were only one producer work on it. This is a one hour Chinese speaking show. The victims on the Scare Tactics trailer are friends of the accomplice which made a good relationship after being scared. The show trailers have three producers to co-operate to make the show well and being showed on Syfy channel on USA and it is shorter because this is a 30 minutes English speaking show.

Finally, I like both of them because they have different ideas of making practical jokes. Even they have different ideas of making a show or effects, it still funny and make people happy. Also, the reactions of the victims on both shows have different context on emotions and feelings. This makes people feel happier in some ways because of the acts and how they create it. Be happy.
